Rabbi David Glickman

Rabbi William Gershon

We are honored to have Rabbi William Gershon, Senior Rabbi of Congregation Shearith Israel, Dallas, Texas, install Rabbi Glickman as Senior Rabbi of CBS during the 9:30 am Shabbat morning service, December 15. Rabbi Gershon has been the Senior Rabbi, Feldman Family Senior Rabbinic Chair, of Congregation Shearith Israel since 1998. He is a Rabbinic Fellow of the Shalom Hartman Institute in Jerusalem, and is the Vice-President of the Rabbinical Assembly. He serves on the Chancellor's Rabbinic Cabinet of JTS, is a member of the National Council of AIPAC and has been honored by Israel Bonds for his tireless efforts on behalf of the State of Israel.

A graduate of the University of Michigan and The Jewish Theological Seminary, Rabbi Glickman came to us from Congregation Shearith Israel in Dallas where he served since 2001 and was a powerful catalyst for cutting-edge, innovative programming, dynamic education and meaningful spiritual experiences. National organizations such as STAR (Synagogue Transformation and Renewal), JTS and the Tikvah Institute have all recognized Rabbi Glickman, selecting him for their national young leaders' fellowships.

From the Rabbi's Study

Giving Thanks is a Jewish Theme

Thanksgiving has all of the ingredients of a perfect, Jewish holiday: recalling an historical event through food, the gathering of family and the expression of gratitude. Though we as Jews have tried linking Thanksgiving to Sukkot, there is little outside evidence that the original Pilgrims made this connection themselves.

This, however, does not take away from the fact that we Jews have felt at home with the holiday of Thanksgiving since its inception. Some of the most powerful religious deciders of Jewish law in the twentieth century such as Rabbi Joseph Soloveitchik and Rabbi Moshe Feinstein all permitted Jews to celebrate Thanksgiving despite the “history” we may have learned in elementary school of Pilgrims and Native Americans.

Through Jewish living, we have ways of “giving” thanks, and “doing” thanks. To give thanks, is simply by giving voice to that which you are grateful. We do this at our Thanksgiving table both by saying the appropriate blessings on our food, as well as going around and saying what we are thankful for this year. However, there is also “doing” thanks. Instead of simply vocalizing thanks to God for the bounty we have, I suggest helping God in His task of feeding the world by sharing your bounty with others. In this way, you are not only “giving” thanks, but “doing” thanks. A new holiday –

“Thanks-doing”?

I am proud to announce that at the High Holiday Food Drive, Congregation Beth Shalom collected over 2700 pounds of food for the JFS Food Pantry! We are working on ways to partner in formal ways in the months to come. However, as you are preparing your own Thanksgiving dinners, I would like to request that you pick up extra cranberry sauce, extra pumpkin-pie filling, as well as more nutritious non-perishables and bring them to the new JFS Food Pantry so Thanksgiving can become a day of Thanks-doing. For more information on the Food Pantry, click on www.jfskc.org.

Executively Speaking

One Woman's Opinion

This month we celebrate Thanksgiving. Sitting recently at dinner with several congregants, I was asked to relate this holiday to Judaism. So for you, and you know who you are, here it goes....

This holiday began with the early settlers' desire to give thanks to God for granting them a bountiful harvest. Now, we all know that the Pilgrims were a very religious group; their heritage founded in Bible studies of both the Old and New Testaments. They tried to model their lives according to the word in the scriptures. If we were to take a close look at this, we would find that their Thanksgiving feast, on a much smaller scale, reminds us of Jewish faith of the Feast of Tabernacles, or more commonly called Sukkot.

The similarities are obvious; both are celebrated autumn harvest holidays, and at both festivals God was thanked for what was good and bountiful in their lives. By the time this goes to press our High Holy days are just a memory and if we are to take the above literally, we are given a second chance to give thanks for our bounty this Thanksgiving.

So, keeping with giving thanks, I publically would like to thank the staff and volunteers of Beth Shalom for the insurmountable job of getting this synagogue through the holidays. Each with their own style and grace, their share of aggravation and laughs, a small but strong team like no other, you are all truly are amazing and I love you all.

Wishing everyone a warm and wonderful Thanksgiving.

The RFEC has been so busy with celebrations and learning and fun during the fall holidays.

We had a full house for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur in our fabulous family services. Jamie Diamond, accompanied by Emily Tummons, led fun and spiritual services for our young families! Lizzy the Puppet kept everyone engaged!

Our family feeling grew with Sukkot and Simchat Torah! We had so many young families enthusiastically participating. Learning with Rabbi Glickman made the holidays so amazing! People came in casual attire to join us for the great festivities! The children loved learning about the Lulav and Etrog for Sukkot. Every family who came to Rabbi Glickman's Sukkot Service was able to march with the Lulav and Etrog and learn how to shake it while singing Sukkot prayers. Everyone joined together in Goldsmith Hall for the Hallel parade! For Simchat Torah our families participated in a Torah Roll where we unrolled a Torah around the children while parents and grandparents held the Torah scroll for all to see! The sense of awe on everyone's faces was a sight to behold!

Now we look forward to Thanksgiving and feeling thankful for all of the blessings in our lives!

Join us on Shabbat, November 10, for Tot Shabbat with your children up to age five! The experience will begin at 11 am with a "tot" inental breakfast. At 11:15 am, we will gather for Shabbat singing and a PJ Library storytime led by Bridey Stangler, who has been a songleader in our community for over 10 years. We will conclude our service on the Bimah in Goldsmith Hall for Adon Olam and a surprise from Rabbi Glickman. Siblings, Grandparents, friends and all members of the community are welcome! Come as you are, we would love to share Shabbat with you!

Painting the Youth Lounge

By Elana Goldenberg

This year is my first year doing KCUSY. One of the first things I got to do as a member was help paint the wall in the youth lounge. We spent the first few weeks of USY working on this project, and it turned out looking really awesome in the end. On the left, there is a chalkboard-painted area and colorful squares. On the right, it says KCUSY in bright block letters.

Getting to paint the wall was a lot of fun. Not only did I get to have fun hanging out with my friends, I also made new friends and talked to people I didn't know very well. Painting the wall made me feel like a part of the group because the little things that I did to help were going towards a bigger effort.

Painting the youth lounge wall will probably be one the most memorable things about my USY career, even though mine has just begun. I am so glad that I joined USY and got to be a part of that. The mural that I got to help paint makes USY very special to me and a big part of my life.

SUCCESS ---- SUCCESS

Since 2007, CBS has been encouraging our synagogue family to Create A Jewish Legacy by making a bequest or other planned gift to Beth Shalom. During the past five years, 34 people have made commitments ranging from $1,000 to more than $1,000,000 to build the permanent financial resources of our synagogue. These commitments reflect our members' pride and love for our congregation.

Beth Shalom's Create A Jewish Legacy initiative is part of the Bushman Community Endowment program (BCE) which is underwritten by Stanley Bushman and coordinated through the Jewish Community Foundation. We have established and met goals, earned $34,000 in incentive grants and have formed a team of volunteers, under the leadership of Harold Kaseff and Gary Cortés, to contact more congregants and inspire them to leave a legacy for CBS. The committee members include Erwin Abrams, Cynthia Bodker, Dr. Fred Bodker, Hanan Hammer, Susie Goldsmith, Ben Warner, Rabbi David Glickman, and Diane Azorsky, Ernie Rosenthal, and Peter Newman as ex-officio.

We are energized as we work to reach our goal for the New Year. With your help and generosity, we will raise the bar on gaining new planned gifts to help ensure the long term financial stability of our home, CBS.

Green olives and chicken
by Janice Shopmaker
(Cathy's Mom)

Chicken parts can be legs, thighs, breasts, any type you like.
About six servings.

- 3 tablespoons oil
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 1 cup water
- 1 can tomatoes with juice
- 1 jar stuffed green olives
- 1 cup long grain rice
- 1 chicken boullion cube

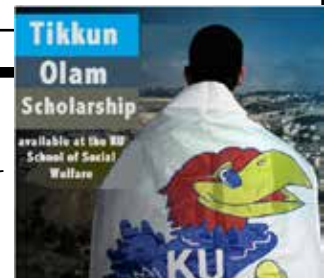

Coat the chicken with flour, salt and pepper, garlic salt to taste. Brown chicken in oil. Take out chicken and set aside. Brown onions in the same pan. Put the chicken back in the pan. Add 1 cup water, 1 can of tomatoes with juice, 1 jar stuffed green olives, 1 cup long grain rice and the chicken boullion cube. Put lid on pan and simmer for 35 minutes. Important to cook on low so water does not evaporate. You can add frozen peas
The chicken is good with biscuits and honey

Editorial Comments

We are thankful to live in a wonderful country. Our immigrant ancestors called the U. S. "the goldene medina". We have freedom of religion and the right to vote for those we want to govern our country. While traveling this past summer with a tour group, we learned that Australia has compulsory voting and fines its citizens who do not vote. We do not have compulsory voting, but we need to exercise our right to vote in the important elections on Tuesday, November 6. We will not only decide our future, but possibly the future of Israel.

Circles of Engagement

Our synagogue is a multi-generational family, and it is important that we try to meet the needs of every member of our family.

To achieve that goal one of the key projects incorporated in our current strategic plan for the future of CBS is the development and support of what we call "Circles of Engagement," These circles are groups of individuals and/or families, within the congregation, with common interests and a desire to spend time together in a family like atmosphere.

We are currently seeking people who would like to serve on a committee that will design the process for implementing this exciting and important initiative. To join this committee, please contact Steve Feinstein, stephenf419@gmail.com.
